Writing for Film and television can be a very well paid career...

- Do you have a story to tell about Wales?
 - Are you finding it difficult to find the right job for you?
 - Have you had periods in and out of work?
 - Are you seeking to return to work after having brought up a family?
 - Would you like help with using information technology?

If your answer is yes to the above questions we can help you.

TAPS CYMRU in association with the Welsh Assembly Government through the European Social Fund is offering places on its training courses to find and train new writers for film television and other media courses will be held over the next few months in Wrexham, Llandridnod Wells and Newport/Cardiff.

Travel Costs, Child Care and Out of Pocket Expenses will be met.

If you would like to write for film and television and believe that you have what it takes to earn up to £100,000 a year, why not get in touch with TAPS CYMRU?
