

ACADEMI SGRIN CYMRU SKILLSET SCREEN ACADEMY WALES

BOOKING IS NOW OPEN FOR INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM:

Film Acting & Film Directing: education, teaching & training

Friday 23 & Saturday 24 January 2009

International Film School Wales

University of Wales, Newport

Caerleon Campus

Bringing together internationally recognised practitioners, educators and academics to explore the history, currency and future trends of collaboration between film actor and director training. Invited speakers include:

- Professor Louis Scheeder, Associate Dean, NYU Tisch School of the Arts
- Professor Wojciech Marczewski, Director of the Andrzej Wajda Master School of Film Directing, Warsaw, Poland
- Stephen Bayly, Director, Trainer, former Head of the National Film & Television School (NFTS), London
- Dr Victoria Lowe, University of Manchester

The symposium aims to discuss and explore methods that offer the necessary skills and training to students of acting and directing for the screen and to offer models of best practice in the continuing exploration of how to approach the directing of actors for the camera.

The symposium will be of interest to students and teachers of acting, directing, film and performance studies as well as film and theatre practitioners and professionals. It includes panel discussions, keynote lectures and a practical workshop on Meisner technique for camera.

The symposium is free of charge but places are limited.
