

RED Training 2010

Digital Imaging Technician Course

We are delighted to announce that we have received Skillset funding for our Digital Imaging Technician Course.

A RED Digital Imaging Technician is a new role and is an essential RED shoot crew member requiring expert knowledge of the system and the images it creates. A RED DIT on a digital shoot is responsible for the technical set up of the camera and also the safe keeping and processing of the digital data created. He/she is also the on set bridge between production and postproduction.

This course is designed primarily for camera crew and Directors of Photography but it will also be very useful for Directors, Producers and Editors who wish to expand their knowledge digital cinema production.

Course Fee £300+VAT 2 day duration – funding criteria must be met

Shoot Red

This is not a funded course, but will give you the opportunity to spend a day shooting with the RED camera, to benefit from this one day course you need to have experience of RED camera set-up.

Course Fee £250+VAT 1 day duration
